

HELP US WITH

Youth Theatre Employment:

Peninsula Productions has a youth theatre company called NextGen. Every year, NextGen hires a new cohort of youth up to the age of 30 to work alongside professional theatre artists, directors, producers, and technicians. They learn how to produce and perform, culminating in a full-scale theatrical production.

Giving Back

Peninsula Productions believes in giving back. We regularly donate tickets to those whose financial barriers may prevent them from experiencing live theatre. We also believe in sharing knowledge and expertise by facilitating affordable workshops for members of the theatre community.

PENINSULA PRODUCTIONS
relies on the support of our members,
our sponsors, volunteers
and grant enablers.

We would like to thank you all for supporting our efforts to bring world-class theatre to the Peninsula.
